SERVICES

EXCELLENCE IN EVERY CASE™

Customized Distribution Services, Inc. (CDS) provides advanced logistics capabilities, processes, and solutions via a national network of modern distribution centers managed to precise safety and operational standards.

Every CDS distribution center blends a sophisticated radio-frequency inventory management system, a skilled workforce, and refined tracking and management processes to produce extremely high inventory accuracy rates and client satisfaction levels.

Quality You Can See

Why do customers count on CDS?

It comes down to transparency — our ability to become a seamless part of our customers' supply chains and our clear, no-surprises approach to doing business. CDS customers benefit from a powerful combination of:

Customization Capabilities.

Our company name — Customized Distribution Services — captures our commitment to tailoring our services and capabilities to your organization's needs. With infrastructure, processes, and technologies designed to be highly flexible, we can quickly and effectively anticipate and respond to your needs.

Dedicated Personalized Service.

The CDS leadership team is highly engaged in serving our customers, resulting in a level of focus and attention that uniquely complements the size and scope of our operations.

Scale and Sophistication.

CDS offers the scale and sophistication of a large, national provider. We operate 11 best-in-class distribution centers and offer a robust IT infrastructure and suite of solutions that we use to drive operational results and continuous improvement.

People with the depth and knowledge to understand your business.

Processes to move your business.

Technology that supports your business.

And all of it completely transparent to you and your customers.

Contract Warehousing

Tailored Support. Seamless Service.

We understand that your business is unique and so are your supply chain challenges and requirements. From our people and facilities to our commitment to IT innovation, CDS has designed our infrastructure for safety, quality, and agility. We tailor services to your needs—and become a seamless and valuable part of your supply chain. Customized Distribution Services: It isn't just who we are. It's what we do.

CDS Facilities in Focus

All CDS facilities are built and maintained to achieve seamless product distribution:

- » CDS locations are optimal points-of-origin for product distribution, with convenient highway access and proximity to all major markets.
- » Flexible configurations allow you to match space, storage, climate, and security specifications to your business requirements.
- » Specialized equipment protects, identifies, stores, moves, and retrieves your product.
- » A solid infrastructure provides you with security services, fire protection, alarm systems, and immaculate maintenance.

Public Warehousing

Safety. Quality. Flexibility.

Offering best-in-class distribution centers across the country—including locations with proximity to ports—CDS makes public warehousing a national proposition. We work with a variety of public warehousing clients—meeting their short-term distribution needs and positioning them for long-term business value and success.

CDS Process in Focus

CDS becomes a transparent part of your supply chain from start to finish:

- » Receiving processes ensure product integrity, accurate identification, and appropriate storage.
- » Tracking processes use bar-coding and scanning technology for real-time inventory reporting.
- » Inventory accuracy is maintained through continuous bay audit, cycle count, and physical inventory processes.
- » Product transformation is available when required, including display building, kitting, heat tunnel processes, and custom labeling.
- » Customer orders are monitored and managed to ship on time, complete and damage free.
- » Error-free shipping is assured through real-time radio-frequency checking, defined loading procedures, and detailed documentation.

IT Innovation

Technology-Fueled Results.

At CDS, we have built sophisticated IT functionality that helps us run our business with greater speed, accuracy, and agility. But we don't stop there. With seamless integration between your systems and ours, we also leverage technology to give you better visibility into your own distribution data. Better insights. Better performance. CDS delivers results that you can see for yourself.

CDS Technology in Focus

CDS brings you a robust IT-driven functionality, including:

- » Advanced product allocation and hold methods
- » Electronic Data Interchange (EDI)
- » Web-based access to inventory information

Making your vision a reality.

With state-of-the-art warehousing facilities across the country, CDS is able to meet the needs of small and large customers alike. But what if your business requires a new facility or leased space? The answer: CDS has ample experience and the partnerships needed to make your vision a reality.

We truly offer “Customized Distribution Services,” even to the extent of helping you with site planning and selection, designing a facility to meet your industrial requirements and logistics needs, and acting as your master contractor for all construction-related activities. And once your site is ready for your products, we will manage your distribution as if the site were one of our own!

CDS Sustainability in Focus

At CDS, sustainability is part and parcel of our ethical and responsible approach to doing business. We live our values through:

- » Our program for measuring and reducing your carbon footprint.
- » Our commitment to reducing, reusing, and recycling materials whenever possible.
- » Our involvement in a variety of community initiatives.

CDS works to support sustainability in our own operations and to help you meet—or exceed—your environmental and business goals.

No surprises with CDS

At CDS, our contract terms are clear in outlining services and associated costs. We offer different types of contractual relationships depending on your needs. A long-term contractual relationship offers the benefit of more thorough supply chain integration, while a short-term relationship provides the option of resolving more immediate logistic issues in your organization.
